THE EAGLE

From childhood to adulthood . . .
From our past to our future . . .
From what we were . . .
To what we strive to be . . .
Spans a bridge, built by those before us:
Their hopes and dreams have endured
And become tradition.
Others will follow us
Trodding on the planks that we have laid.

On this bridge
We have learned something of all bridges;
When we have reached its end
The myriad of paths
Will lead us to more bridges,
And when we have crossed them
We shall build new ones . . .

Graduating Seniors, tomorrow's leaders, you have my congratulations and best wishes for your future happiness and success. You will be greatly missed at Fort Knox, but I know that wherever you go you will bring honor and respect to our school, our country, and our world.

Principal
Scott Junior High School

Dear Seniors:

It is a pleasure and an honor to be associated with the school that has graduated such an excellent group of young ladies and men.

I sincerely trust that you will continue your learning, remembering that learning is in principle and should be in fact the highest common good to be defended as a right and worked for as an end. All men are capable of learning according to their abilities. Learning does not stop as long as man lives unless his learning power atrophies because he does not use it.

Sincerely,

G. L. (Jack) Reynolds

A PRESIDENTIAL MESSAGE

To the Schools
on the Physical Fitness of Youth

The strength of our democracy is no greater than the collective well-being of our people. The vigor of our country is no stronger than the vitality and will of all our countrymen. The level of physical, mental, moral and spiritual fitness of every American citizen must be our constant concern.

The need for increased attention to the physical fitness of our youth is clearly established. Although today's young people are fundamentally healthier than the youth of any previous generation, the majority have not developed strong, agile bodies. The softening process of our civilization continues to carry on its persistent erosion.

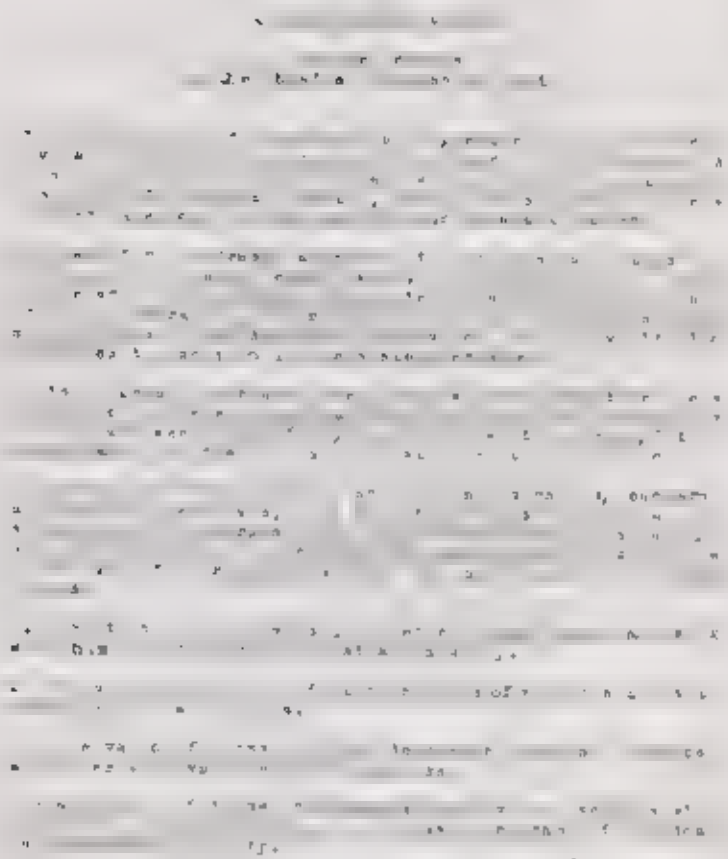

It is of great importance, then, that we take immediate steps to ensure that every American child be given the opportunity to keep himself physically fit to learn, fit to work, fit to serve in great national tasks, to fully live.

To members of school boards, school administrators, teachers, and pupils themselves, I am directing this message. I am recommending that you adopt the following three specific recommendations:

1. Identify the physically underdeveloped child and work with him to improve his physical capacity.
2. Provide a minimum of fifteen minutes of vigorous activity every day for all pupils.
3. Use valid fitness tests to determine pupils' physical abilities and evaluate their progress.

The adoption of these recommendations by our schools will ensure the beginning of a sound basic program of physical fitness for all youth.
